Organizational History

Schreiner was founded in that year when a Hill Country rancher, merchant and former Texas Ranger, Captain Charles Schreiner, asked the Presbyterian Church to help him put bricks, mortar, and people around a dream he had nurtured for many years. He donated land along the Guadalupe River and together they established "facilities for high grade instruction and military training to boys and young men as preparation for college and university work."

Schreiner's first students came in 1923 from remote ranching communities. But news of the prep school and nurturing atmosphere spread quickly. Soon scores of young men from varied backgrounds, from the Southwest and several Central and South American countries, gathered in Kerrville to earn high school diplomas and junior college degrees.

By 1971 the military training was discontinued and the school became fully coeducational.

In 1973 Schreiner began phasing out its high school, strengthened its college curricula, and began referring to itself as "Schreiner College" but continued to only offer classes to an associate degree level. In 1981 Schreiner College became a four year institution and graduated its first baccalaureate class in 1984.

In 2001 the Board of Trustees voted to change the name to Schreiner University.
